Anyone with access to the Internet can type in this address and access the COAC website home page: <http://coac.learnalberta.ca>

The web site was designed this way so guests could learn more about the Alberta Video Co-acquisition Consortium (COAC). One of the goals of COAC is to get more Alberta school districts to join so there is more funding for more video licenses.

Welcome to the COAC Web Site

The Alberta Video Co-Acquisition Consortium (COAC) is a partnership of Alberta school districts, learning/media resource centers, regional resource centres and Alberta Education. Together, we purchase provincial licenses for educational videos so that our member teachers and their students have access to more high quality video resources at a lower cost.

In addition to accessing streamed video programs from this web site, Alberta COAC teachers can borrow DVDs from either their school district or regional media resource centres. Member school district and regional media resource centres can purchase at minimal cost copies of licensed COAC video programs for their use or purchase master copies of these licensed COAC video programs so they can make CD or DVD copies for their district.

Any Alberta school district can become a member of COAC. For more information, click on the Contact bookmark on the left.

© Alberta Video Co-acquisition Consortium, 2007

Guests are encouraged to read the web site informational documents that include COAC's history and a list of current COAC members. They can find out who to contact and what the Terms of Use are for the web site and learn how Alberta teachers preview and evaluate new educational video titles before they are provincially licensed.

Previewing Videos

All videos available from this web site have been previewed and assessed by Alberta teachers to be sure they are appropriate for Alberta students and support new Alberta programs.

COAC district members send teacher representatives to the Educational Media Marketplace (EMM) held annually in November at Kananaskis. Canadian Media Distributors collectively host the event and bring copies of all of the most recent educational video titles for teachers to preview and assess. Assessments are shared and the top priorities are selected for XOAC funded provincial licensing.

Following are pictures from the 10th Annual EMM held November 6-8, 2006 at Kananaskis.

Each media distributor sets up a viewing space.

A group of Canadian Media Distributors host EMM.

Guests can not view any videos and can not open any Reviewer Comments attached to videos. Only registered users can do that.

How Can COAC Members View Videos?

Two things have to happen before you as a COAC teacher member and your students can view videos:

- 1) Your school district or independent school has to first be authorized by a COAC representative or the COAC web site Administrator. The authorization process means either the COAC representative or the Administrator has to go into the web site and click on permitted beside your school district or enter the e-mail of your independent school's name. Only those Alberta school districts and independent schools who have paid the annual COAC fees can be authorized to use the web site. If you are not sure if your school district is a paid COAC member, go to the tab called COAC Current Members on the left side of the web site home page and click on it. A document will come up that lists all of the currently paid-up COAC members.
- 2) Each teacher (and student) planning to access the videos needs to register first. Once you have successfully registered the first time, all you need to do after that is log in.

When and Where Can COAC Members View Videos?

Registered Alberta COAC member teachers and their students can access any COAC licensed videos from their schools or from anywhere else where they can access the Internet. If their Internet connection is fast, the technical quality of the video will be good. To ensure high quality connections, most Alberta schools have taken advantage of the invitation from Alberta Education to acquire Content Delivery Devices (CDDs) for each school in their district. These special network servers cache the videos so schools have immediate access to them within the school's local area network.

How to Register

To become a registered user, you must access the COAC web site from a computer using their school district email account. If you try to register using a personal email account, the system would not recognize the email domain and would reject their request. (Once registered, the user can then access the web site from any email account whether at school or at home.)

It is important to note, for most teachers and students, even though your COAC membership may be purchased indirectly through your membership with a media resource centre or regional library such as the Central Alberta Media Service, Southern Alberta Learning Resource Centre, South Central Alberta Resource Centre, Zone One Regional Resource Centre or the Parkland Regional Library, it is your Alberta school district email that allows you to successfully register at this web site.

Here are the steps to successfully register:

- 1) Go to <http://coac.learnalberta.ca> Note the Log In box on the top left side of the Home page.

The screenshot shows the top section of the COAC Web Site. On the left, there is a 'Login' box with fields for 'E-mail:' and 'Password:', a 'Log In' button, and links for 'register as a new user' and 'forgot your Password?'. On the right, there is a 'Welcome to the COAC Web Site' message. The message text reads: 'The Alberta Video Co-Acquisition Consortium (COAC) is a partnership of Alberta's districts, learning/media resource centers, regional resource centres and Alberta Education. Together, we purchase provincial licenses for educational videos so that member teachers and their students have access to better and more resources at cost.'

- 2) Click on the Register as a New User link below the Log In spaces.
- 3) A form will appear on the right side for you to complete. Fill in the registration form on the right side and submit.

The screenshot shows the registration form on the right side of the page. The form is titled 'To register, provide the following information:'. It contains the following fields: 'First Name:', 'Last Name:', 'Email Address:', 'UserID: (Your UserID will be your email address)', 'Create New Password:', and 'Confirm New Password:'. On the left side of the page, the 'Login' box and the 'register as a new user' link are visible.

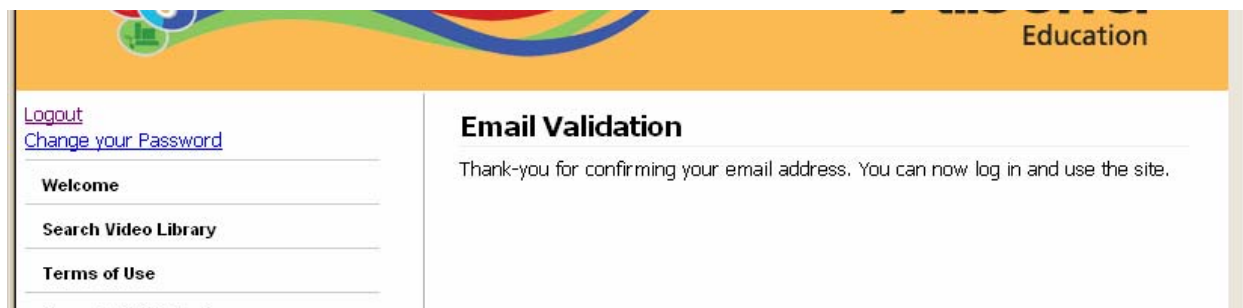

- 4) Once you submit, a message immediately appears as below. This message confirms what you have done so far and advises you to check your email and to be sure to open the system email as your registration can not be completed without this step.

The screenshot shows the 'Thank you for registering.' message on the right side of the page. The message text reads: 'Please check your e-mail for registration confirmation. Be sure to open the e-mail. If you do not receive an e-mail within 24 hours, click on the Contact bookmark on the left.' On the left side of the page, the 'Login' box and the 'register as a new user' link are visible.

- 5) Go to your email and an email will appear very shortly if you have been successful. You must open the email message and click on the link in the message to activate the registration. This mandatory process confirms the email address you used in the application.

- 6) Once you click on the verification link in the email, your successful registration is acknowledged:

- 7) If you do not receive an email from the system within an hour, check other places the email may have errantly gone such as to your Junk Mail folder. You can't successfully register without receiving and opening that email message.
- 8) If the system does not recognize your email address as a COAC member address, you will be sent a rejection email message that advises you to refer to the contact information. The contact information cites the COAC Chairperson's email and phone number. You might also contact your COAC rep for assistance.
- a) The first thing the COAC Chairperson will have to determine is if you are a teacher or are a student from an Alberta school district that is a paid COAC member. Once that is verified, the Administrator has a way of checking to see if your registration was partially completed and if an e-mail has been sent to you but you have not opened it. You may be asked to go back and check your email system to find this message form the system. It may have been stopped by your security system.

- b) If you can not find the email to open it, the Administrator will have to delete your name from within the system so you can start the registration process again.

Registration Error

We're sorry, you are not permitted to register. Registration is only available to Alberta COAC member teachers and their students.

This web site is configured to allow registrations from computers within a school network that is a COAC member or from email addresses that have been permitted to register. This web site could not recognize your registration as matching one of those requirements.

For additional information, or help with Registration, click on the Contact bookmark on the left.

Three Things for Teacher COAC Members to Remember to View Videos

1. Your school district or independent school has to be pre-authorized by a COAC Rep or Administrator before you can register.
2. You have to register on the COAC web site before you can watch any videos.
3. Before the registration can be completed, you have to open your system email and click on the link in that email sent from the COAC web site system.

COAC Web Site Features for Registered Users

In addition to the Welcome message, the left-side menu also links Users to other informational documents such as: the Terms of Use for the web site, a list of the Current COAC Members, information About COAC, an opportunity to provide Feedback, information about how videos are previewed and evaluated, how to Contact a COAC representative, and some tips in a document called HELP.

Finding the Videos

To find the video library, go to the Search Video Library link on the left. There are several hundred video titles in the library and more being added all the time.

If you want to see an alphabetical list of all the video titles in the library, leave all of the search parameter windows on the right side on ALL and click on Search.

Using the Search Capability

To help you quickly narrow your search to appropriate videos five different search parameters have been included. You can use one or several or all. For example, you can enter search parameters such as English or French language, any grades from K to 12 or multiple grades and any Alberta Education subject areas and an alphabetical list of all such video titles will appear.

For example: If you are teaching grade 10 English Language Arts, then leave the Distributor list at ALL, select Grade 10, within the Subject menu, select English Language Arts and then select English as the language. Now click on Search. An alphabetical listing of any relevant video titles will appear with information about each title. There are not necessarily videos available for every possibility.

Sometimes you know the title or part of the title or know what the key words or topic of the video is and you want to find it. In that instance, leave all the search parameters set at ALL and then enter the words you know into the Keywords field.

For example: If you want to see if there is a video about fractions or that has bits about fractions, simply type in fractions into the Keywords field and then click on Search.

Note: the listing produced when using the Keywords search capability is not alphabetical. Instead, the list will be arranged by frequency of "hits". The first title to appear will be the video description that contains the most repetition of the key words you have cited or the largest number of keywords.

What Does Each Video Library Entry Contain?

For each video title entry a series of information is included so the user can learn about the video program.

Read Reviewer Comments: This is a further enhancement in the new web site. Viewers can't add comments, but they can refer to the comments included before viewing the video. If they wish, they can send teacher comments to their COAC

Management Committee representative who has the authority to add appropriate comments to any video.

Teacher-User Responsibilities

Registered Alberta teacher and student COAC members may view videos at any time; however, they also have to realize with that privilege comes responsibility. As the Terms of Use state on the web site, not all Alberta teachers and students belong to school districts that are members of COAC, though membership is open to all Alberta school districts at a minimal cost.

Teacher-users can not share their user name and password with any other teachers or students. All COAC members need to register individually so we can monitor usage. All non-members need to encourage their school districts to join COAC.

Teacher Reviewers

Teachers with experience pre-viewing videos for their schools, particularly at the annual at the Alberta Educational Media MarketPlace may be asked by their COAC representatives to insert Reviewer Comments about videos they have evaluated. IN order to enter Reviewer Comments, the COAC representative has to go into the web site system and promote the teacher's name and e-mail to the Teacher Reviewer level. This will allow the teacher to then be able to open the Reviewer's Comments box and insert appropriate comments.

The system will automatically enter the Reviewer's name with the comments and when submitted the date will appear.

Suggestions for Reviewer Comments

Those given permission to be able to insert Reviewer's Comments need to be sure the comments they include are accurate and appropriate. Please always edit your comments to be sure the typos have been corrected.

Following is a list of types of reviews/comments that might be included:

- 1) Socially Sensitive Cautions: COAC Management Committee reps, Web Site Administrators, and Alberta Education Video Advisory Group members are likely to want to include any cautionary remarks submitted by their trained reviewers regarding social sensitivities, biases, gender, diversity and tolerance. For example, a comment might make note that in Part 3 at 3.45 minutes, there is a scene that includes violence related to racial tensions and it is recommended that teachers prepare students in advance when they introduce the video.
- 2) Curriculum Fit: Reviewers should include specific comments about fit to Alberta programs of study. For example: This Grade 4 Social Studies video contains four separate parts. Part 1 is 5 minutes long and it is an excellent introduction to the Program of Studies Outcome 4.1: A Sense of Land because it shows excellent pictures of Alberta's diversity. Reviewers should also include notations where large segments of the video do not comply with the Alberta Program of Study. For example: This video contains three separate chapters. Chapter 2 which begins at 4.5 minutes provides an excellent confirmation of sells and systems for Knowledge and Employability, Science 10-4 students; however, the other chapters are too detailed and beyond the range of the K&E Outcomes for Science 10-4.
- 3) Lesson Ideas: As professionals, experienced teachers need to share their expertise and best practices with others to optimize student learning. If teachers have developed a particularly successful lesson using all or portions of any videos listed on the COAC web site, they are encouraged to share them with other COAC members. Following is a fictitious example to give you an idea of the potential here:

- a) Video: Boating Safety, Grade 9 Health
- b) Alberta Program of Studies outcome w-9.9
- c) Begin the lesson by talking about new laws in Canada requiring boating licenses and tests depending on the size of boats. Ask students if they have ever driven a boat and why they think this might be good.
- d) Show the 15 minute video Boating Safety that describes the new Canadian laws. Discuss the basic level requirements and ask students if they would be interested in taking the test at the end of this two day lesson.... etc.

- 4) General Feedback: Teachers may simply want to include general, dependable feedback, such as the following: I have shown this video to four different Grade 8 Language Arts classes and they all enjoyed it. After the video I have them work in groups to come up with their own strategy to....

Once entered and submitted, no one can edit the comments. COAC representatives and web site Administrators are only able to add or delete comments, but they can not change the comments.

If you have not been granted special rights to insert Reviewer Comments and you have feedback you would like to provide, please contact your COAC representative or your media resource centre representative and they can insert the comments on your behalf.

The next two pages have been designed for teachers to print and distribute or re-save as a separate student handout and send it out electronically should they want students to be able to access the videos in small groups or as individuals from school or home.

Please remind students, once registered, they can not share their username and password with other students from other schools as this web site is only for those students and teachers from schools who have paid membership fees.

Student Guide for Watching Videos

Here's how you register:

- 1) Go to <http://coac.learnalberta.ca> Note the Log In box on the top left side of the Home page.

Another arrow from the text in step 2 points to the 'Register as a new user' link.

- 2) Click on the Register as a New User link below the Log In spaces.

- 3) A form will appear on the right side for you to complete. Fill in the registration form on the right side and submit.

Verify my Email Address.'" data-bbox="140 727 853 866"/>

- 6) Once you click on the link in the email, you're the system should send you a note like this one:

- 7) If you do not receive an email from the system within an hour, check your emails carefully. Look other places in your email program to see if the e-mail went accidentally into a junk folder or some where else. You can't successfully register and you can't log in and watch videos without receiving and opening that email message.

If you don't get an email try once more to register by starting over with step 1. If it still doesn't work, talk to your teacher.

Once you have registered, you can now log in to the web site to watch videos anytime and anywhere as long as you have your username and password. Make sure you write them down and put them somewhere safely in case you forget what they are.
